Language Proficiency

Most of the courses at RUB are taught in German. There are courses in English that are published in our International Course Catalogue. Students should have a good knowledge of German, at least a B1/B2 level for courses taught in German.

Language courses

During the term, exchange students have the chance to attend language courses free of charge:
German: www.daf.ruhr-uni-bochum.de/sbgk/index.html.en
Others: www.zfa.ruhr-uni-bochum.de/sprachen/index.html.en

Credit System

Courses at RUB are credited with credit points (CP). 1 CP is equal to 1 ECTS (= 30 working hours).

Grading System

RUB uses the German grades from 1-5 (1 = very good, 5 = fail). There are some faculties using percentages (0-100%).

Master’s Thesis / Project

For students who intend on completing a project or a Master’s thesis, it is important to establish contact with a supervisor at RUB before arrival. The International Office can help finding a supervisor. In order to contact the right department, we need to know which subject the project will be carried out in.
Tuition Fees

There are no tuition fees, however, each student must pay a semester contribution fee (approx. €350 per semester) which includes a travel ticket for public transport.

Accommodation

The International Office offers a special service for exchange students from partner universities. Students can apply for accommodation for the duration of their exchange (1-2 semesters). Since the International Office can only reserve a limited number of rooms for exchange students, early registration and flexibility is useful. Information on the accommodation application can be found here: http://international.rub.de/gaststudis/accommodation/index.html.en

Arrival and Enrolment

Enrolment

The exact date and time for exchange students’ enrolment at RUB will be announced by email shortly before the semester starts.

Pick-up Service

The student group Erasmus Student Network (ESN) offers a pick-up service for new exchange students at the beginning of each semester. Information about the pick-up service will be sent with the booking confirmation of accommodation.

Orientation Course

Before every winter semester we offer an Orientation Course for exchange students including a language course and social activities. The course starts three to four weeks before the lecture period officially begins. The price for the course is about €300 and there is a limited number of places. Exchange students, who are eligible, will receive an invitation via email.

Orientation Days

At the beginning of each semester, Orientation Days are held for international students. Here they get the chance to meet other students and receive important information. Exchange students will be informed about this offer via email.

Visa Requirements and Residence Permits

Citizens of the European Union do not need a visa for Germany. Citizens from other countries need to check with the Federal Foreign Office to see whether or not a visa is required. Incoming students are responsible for obtaining a visa if needed. Information can be found at:

In order to apply for a visa or an extension after arrival, the student has to bring proof of finances.

After arrival, each student who is staying for more than three months has to register at the City of Bochum.

Health Insurance

European students with the “European Health Insurance Card” do not need to take out health insurance in Germany. Students from Turkey can bring the form “T/A 11” acquired at their own health insurance company. Students from non-European countries can register for a private or compulsory health insurance. Further information

Bank Account

We recommend that students open a German bank account to make payments of rent and the semester contribution fee easy. A bank account for students is usually free of charge.

Proof of Health Insurance for studying

For studying and living in Germany an adequate health insurance is required by law. There are two types of health insurance in Germany: statutory and private.

Main differences between the two health insurance types

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Statutory health insurance</th>
<th>Private health insurance</th>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Coverage of the costs for medical treatments – previous illnesses included</td>
<td>No coverage for previous illnesses</td>
</tr>
<tr>

<td>Pre-payment necessary</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Unrestricted reimbursement for treatments – only partial payment for some medicine and aid</td>
<td>Reimbursement up to a certain amount</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

A statutory health insurance is recommended for international students as it will definitely be recognised for studying in Germany. It costs approx. €90 per month and coverage begins at the start of the respective semester, i.e. on 1 October or 1 April. Students are free to decide which health insurance company fits them best: [List of all statutory health insurances](in German)

If students have a private health insurance either in their country of origin or in Germany, they have to inform themselves beforehand if it is valid for studying in Germany! Each German statutory health insurance can provide this information. Afterwards, they need to apply for an exemption from statutory health insurance (Befreiung von der Versicherungspflicht) at one of the statutory health insurance companies, which has to be shown during enrolment. Not all private health insurance policies (e.g. travel insurance) are approved as sufficient health insurance for students in Germany.

Please note: If one decides to take out a private health insurance, she/he is not allowed to change to a statutory health insurance after the fact!
